Families Youth and Prevention Subcommittee

DRAFT* Objectives for 2026

Guiding principles underlying all objectives

Our work is grounded in equity, dignity, harm reduction, and prevention, and is led by the voices and expertise of people with lived experience of incarceration and family separation. In partnership with county and justice-system collaborators, we commit to learning together, identifying and removing barriers to family connection, and advocating for systems that protect relationships, center on children, and support families to remain connected during incarceration and beyond.

We believe that strong, sustained relationships between children, parents, families, and trusted supports are essential to healing, and preventing the family's future system involvement.

Objectives

Objective 1: Identify and Reduce Barriers to Family Visitation

By December 2026, in collaboration with women who are incarcerated and system partners (County Jail, FCS, law enforcement, and community providers), identify and document the top barriers to family visitation for incarcerated women, and advance at least three actionable recommendations to reduce those barriers, with a focus on equity, trauma reduction, and family-centered practices.

Success looks like:

- A shared, cross-system understanding of visitation barriers
- Clear recommendations that partners agree to explore or pilot
- Improved alignment between policy and lived experience

Objective 2: Strengthen System Knowledge of Family Support Needs

By December 2026, work with system partners to increase shared understanding of the supports families and incarcerated women need to maintain connection, including emotional, logistical, therapeutic, and financial supports, and integrate these insights into at least two policy changing discussions.

Success looks like:

- Increased cross-system awareness of family needs
- Family connection viewed as part of prevention and reentry
- Supports framed as investments, not exceptions

Objective 3: Support Every Incarcerated Woman to have Least One Supportive, Trusted Relationship Natural Support

~~By December 2026, collaborate with system partners to establish a process for identifying and strengthening at least one natural support (family member, trusted adult, or community connection) for incarcerated women, recognizing this connection as a key protective factor for children and families.~~

Or

By December 2026, collaborate with system partners to establish a process for identifying and strengthening at least one supportive, trusted relationship for incarcerated women, such as a family member or community connection, acknowledging the role of sustained support in protecting children and strengthening families.

Success looks like:

- ~~Family or natural supports intentionally identified and supported~~
- Having at least one supportive, trusted relationship
- Reduced isolation during incarceration
- Stronger continuity of relationships for children
