CORRECTION: COUNTY OF SANTA CRUZ BOARD OF SUPERVISORS APPROVE REZONING PARCELS FOR HOUSING DEVELOPMENT

December 10, 2024 – Santa Cruz, CA – Today the Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors approved the rezoning of 27 parcels and amendments to the General Plan Land Use Map for 25 parcels, a pivotal step forward in the County’s 2023 Housing Element Rezone Program presented by the County’s Planning Division. This action reflects Santa Cruz County’s commitment to expanding housing opportunities while supporting both local and regional planning objectives.

With this approval, the County moves closer to fulfilling state-mandated housing requirements and advancing equitable housing development. The rezoning efforts align with the County’s broader housing strategies by paving the way for residential development on parcels that were previously zoned for non-residential development.

The approved amendments are central to the County’s efforts to meet the growing demand for housing availability.
